

Glorify your Son

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Let us just look at this

We are made in the image and likeness of God

Our nature is we believe a reflection of the nature of God

Therefore divine love is a part of what we are

How then is divine love glorified

This love needs separation from the confusion of vanities

This sacred love is the totally free expression rarely achieved

The parent loves the child

When free the love feeds the child with the nourishment of well-being

When totally free gift it strengthens and liberates the child

That spontaneous expression glorifies the child

And makes possible the glorification of the parent in the love the child goes on then to celebrate

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

The friend loves the friend

Not always is this that love free of personal ambition

Not always is that love free of the suffering deep within the life of the friend

But never the less an aspect of that love is classically free

Friendship is an image of the nature of divine love

That friendship feeds the individual with the nourishment of well being

When at times a totally free gift it strengthens and liberates the character

That spontaneous expression glorifies and makes beautiful, the day to day of the friend

And makes possible in that person the beauty celebrated in that life

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Creation is an image of the divine love

What price do I pay for the sensation of sunshine on a spring morning

What cost the sight of the trees emerging green into new growth

What is the rate demanded from me for heartbeat, or breath

That beauty sings and colours and shimmers with the Holy Spirit

That goodness feeds and teaches and celebrates

That reality allows me to step once more into wonder

That spontaneous wonder constantly open to me

To make possible the visions of eternity

That transforms me

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Glorify your Son that your Son may glorify you

Let us just look at this

We are made in the image and likeness of God

Our nature is we believe a reflection of the nature of God

Therefore divine love is a part of what we are

How then is divine love glorified

It is glorified with total freedom

It is glorified in the consequences of the love you freely give

It is glorified when I attempt to live love

And so allow love

To transform

And glorify me.
